Vaccine Without Proper Trials: Breach of Scientific Perspective

The Modi government has declared its decision to vaccinate the people, conveniently modifying the internationally-accepted protocols on Phase 3 trials, as the crucial step in the fight against Covid 19 pandemic. The government says that the said modification is permissible in an emergency such rapid and quick steps are necessary.

We are of the position that the move to implement vaccination without proper trials, especially in the necessary third stage of tests, goes against the perspective of the science of vaccination.

In the final analysis, this kind of hasty implementation of vaccination without scientifically necessary steps for final approval will not help the fight against the pandemic.

The government must make sure that the vaccination is being done with the proper international protocol of tests that are prerequisite for approval of vaccines as per existing standards.
