THE BANNING OF THE PFI: The Fascist Design And The Furtherance Of Communal Polarisation

The banning of the Popular Front of India-PFI does not serve the purpose of flushing out religious fanaticism for a number of reasons.

Firstly, the state machinery that has executed this ban has swung into such action with clear bias turning blind eye to the rise of majority religious fanatic fascist force and the chief protagonist of communal fascist drive in our country that is the RSS led hindutva brigade, that has declared its sinister goal of turning India into a hindu rashtra wholly sabotaging the republic. So, the very act of this banning itself becomes part and parcel of the sinister project of the fascists to intensify communal polarisation.

Secondly, the banning of such organisations does not extinguish the acutely polarised situations that have created such organisations and hence has been time and again proven futile and counterproductive in history.

Thirdly, the rabid forces of the international finance capital - monopoly capital nexus that penetrate into our country and integrate our national economy and National existence altogether with the imperialist neocolonial system, consciously design and generate ideological precipitations, think-tanks, modus operandi, organisational instruments of both majority and minority fanaticism. This is to create mutually polarising communal binary as part of their fascist project that the said forces wield as the chief weapon to gain their fascist goal and to divide, destabilise and disintegrate the free, democratic and secular nation for it.

From a quick survey of the recent global developments we can see that in various countries the said forces always had their country-specific choices to create the said binary combination for fanning the fire of destruction in each of the countries; be it in the case of generating and promoting the Zionists, Taliban, Al Qaeda, ISIS, Boko Haram, Buddhist fanatic forces, Falangists and other Christian fanatics, various white racist fanatic forces etc as the choices varied according to concrete situations. In India, clearly their foremost choice as their principal protagonist fascist force is the RSS-hindutva brigade; minority fanatic outfits being the secondary choice playing the contributory counterpart.

An exit out of this snare-web of majority and minority communal fanatic binary created by the imperialist forces and their colluding domestic allies for their fascist project in our country could be attained only by the resolute effort of the forged unity of left, democratic and secular forces, uniting with all the progressive forces forming a broad anti-fascist united front, waging an epic struggle to regain the secular and democratic republic.
